

MAYPAPERFLOWER

The handmade flower

A Traditionally Valued Product from Vietnam

The Story of Vietnam's Traditional Paper Flowers

For more than four centuries, Thanh Tien village in Hue Citadel, VietNam has been known for its paper flowers—handmade offerings once crafted for festivals and the Lunar New Year. These delicate blossoms, shaped from simple paper yet rich in meaning, became symbols of purity, devotion, and the enduring spirit of the Vietnamese people. Though time and change once pushed the craft to the margins, the tradition never disappeared; it lived quietly in the hands of devoted artisans along the Perfume River.

Today, Maypaperflower humbly continues this heritage. By blending traditional craftsmanship with contemporary design and sustainable materials, we bring new life to Vietnam's paper flowers—transforming them into timeless creations that connect past and present, and carry Vietnamese artistry to the world.

About us

Founded in 2019, Maypaperflower has inherited the tradition of handcrafted paper flowers from Vietnam's Thanh Tien village. With a deep respect for cultural heritage, we have reimagined this ancient art to bring timeless beauty into modern life.

Our mission: is to craft intricate and innovative paper flower products for a global audience, creating job opportunities for artisans and preserving the traditional craft of paper flower making.

More

More than paperflower

We have also introduced a paper flower brand called Moré, featuring simple and basic flower collections. This brand is created to provide income opportunities for women with disabilities and those in difficult circumstances, enabling them to craft meaningful paper flowers. These simple flowers are trained and quality-checked by Maypaperflower, so that every piece still carries true value. For the women, Moré makes them feel more useful and valued in society.

The name Moré means More than Paperflower — where More reflects positive change and the creation of greater meaningful values.
